

Subject: Fwd: A New Kahora Has Arrived

In a message dated 6/13/2010 8:46:35 P.M. Eastern Daylight Time, friendsofnikki@comcast.net writes:

Good News!!

Lilly, a one year old Japanese Chin, has joined the Kahora household, to bring us that special joy that only our furry friends can. Through a series of events that quickly and effortlessly fell into place, we were led to Lilly through Shih Tzu and Furbabies Rescue. We picked her up this weekend from her foster home in East Syracuse, NY. She is a gift already, and we only know her 24hours! I'm sure that our little Doog is wagging his tail knowing that Mommy and Daddy have somebody to love and spoil, helping to ease some of the pain of missing him so. She is a living memorial to him and his siblings, proof that love and grief cannot occur simultaneously. She is sitting on my lap as I write this message. We look forward to sharing her with family and friends.

Warmly,
Donna and Jim