Subject: Made It Though the Summer

Hi All,

Just realized this afternoon (written Sunday) that I have almost made it through the whole summer without my little Doogie. Almost unimaginable! Thank you Doog for sending us this little girl to make the path a little easier after losing you. We always said you'd be a tough act to follow, so you picked just the right one to send our way. It was no accident that some foolish person gave up Lilly and she wound up in rescue, just waiting for us to be in need of love. Who rescued who??

Just thought I'd share my thoughts and my conversation with Doogie today with all of you.

Blessings,
Donna
